Ground rules

---

- The IEEE-SA's patent policy is set forth in clause 6 of the IEEE-SA Standards Board Bylaws:

IEEE standards may include the known use of patent(s), including patent applications, if there is technical justification in the opinion of the standards-developing committee and provided the IEEE receives assurance from the patent holder that it will license applicants under reasonable terms and conditions for the purpose of implementing the standard. This assurance shall be provided without coercion and prior to approval of the standard (or reaffirmation when a patent becomes known after initial approval of the standard). This assurance shall be a letter that is in the form of either

- a) A general disclaimer to the effect that the patentee will not enforce any of its present or future patent(s) whose use would be required to implement the proposed IEEE standard against any person or entity using the patent(s) to comply with the standard or
- b) A statement that a license will be made available to all applicants without compensation or under reasonable rates, with reasonable terms and conditions that are demonstrably free of any unfair discrimination

Copper Objectives

- At our last meeting in Austin, 802.3ah added three new objectives for copper:

PHY for single pair non-loaded voice grade copper, distance  $\geq 4600\text{m}$ ,  $0.4\text{mm} \geq 256\text{kbps}$

PHY for single pair non-loaded voice grade copper, distance  $\geq 3700\text{m}$ ,  $0.5\text{mm} \geq 4\text{mbps}$

Include an optional specification for combined operation on multiple copper pairs

Copper Objectives

- During the closing plenary session of 802.3, serious concern was raised about the first of the new objectives, because the data rate was “outside the scope of the 802.3ah PAR”
- In the opinion of your chair, there is no chance of getting 802.3 to change our PAR to accommodate rates below 1 Mbps, and no chance of getting 802.3 to accept the objective without a change to the PAR

Copper Objectives

- Your chair took an action item to rewrite the copper objectives in order to:
  - A. Make them more concise and readable
  - B. Remove ambiguities
  - C. Give them a chance of being accepted in 802.3
- Submitted for your consideration:

Copper Objectives

---

- A PHY specification for operation over a single pair of non-loaded .5 mm voice grade copper at all distances between 0 and 3700 meters.
- Support  $n$  discrete data rates between 1 and 50 Mbps per copper pair
- Include an optional specification for combined operation on multiple copper pairs
