

IEEE 802.1 Interim Meeting- January 2009

Destination – Bangalore, India

■ India

- Emerging Technology hub
- 2nd Largest Telecom Market in the World
- Emerging destination of Ethernet Deployments

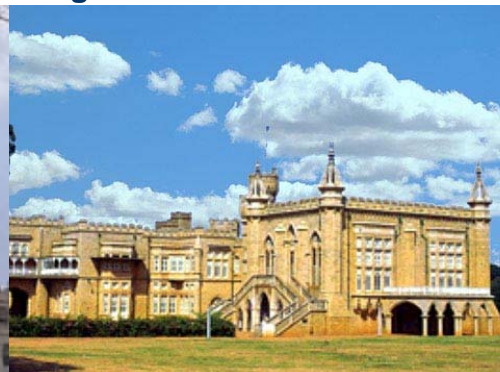

■ Bangalore – Silicon Valley of the East

- Juxtaposed with the old palaces and gardens of Bangalore is the hub of Technology Development in India
- Offices of several large organizations such as IBM, Intel, Juniper, Cisco, Infosys, Motorola, TI, Broadcom, Wipro, Alcatel-Lucent etc.

Vidhan Souda

Bangalore Palace

Infosys Campus

Tejas Networks HQ

Proposed 802.1 Meeting Venue

- Proposed Dates-January 12-15, 2009
- Venue – Golden Palms Hotel and Spa, Bangalore
<http://www.goldenpalmsspa.com/>
- A premium 5 Star location for a plenary meeting in a relaxed ambience
- Cost of room – $220 (approx.)
- Tejas to sponsor a Networking Cocktail and Dinner on the first evening
- Proposed registration of $295 per participant (will include Lunch on all days)

Connectivity to Bangalore (BLR)

- Los Angeles, CA (LAX) – BLR: Cathay Pacific, Luftansa, Malaysian Airlines (With a stop at DEL | Frankfurt | KL | CDG | LHR)
- NYC – BLR – Air India, Jet Airways, American Airlines, Continental (With a stop at DEL | BOM)
- Chicago (CHI) – BLR: Continental, American Airlines, Air India, British Airways (With a stop at DEL | LHR | EWR)
- Atlanta – BLR: Continental (2 Stops)
- Paris, France (CDG) – BLR: Air France (Non Stop)
- London (LHR) – BLR: British Airways (Non Stop)
- Frankfurt – BLR: Lufthansa (Non Stop)
- Many Domestic flights from Mumbai/Delhi

Other compelling reasons to be in India...

- If you're breaking journey at Delhi

Taj Mahal

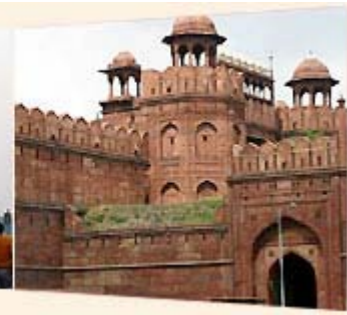

Jama Masjid

Qutb Minar

India Gate

Red Fort

- Around Bangalore

Ooty - Hill Station

Mysore Palace at Night

Tea Estates of Ooty/Munnar