Travel to Thailand

Please take the necessary steps to determine if you need travel documentation for attending an upcoming IEEE 802 Session. Travel requirements may change periodically, so we strongly encourage all attendees to review the specific entry requirements for each session location. You should assess these requirements either on your own or in consultation with your employer to determine what, if any, travel documentation is necessary.

Local regulations, restrictions, and guidelines may change over time, and IEEE recommends consulting your country's consulate or Thai consular representative (<https://www.thaiembassy.org/>) for the most current travel information.

Entry Requirements and Documentation Applications

Upon arrival in Thailand, foreign citizens must hold a valid passport (with at least six months validity), a valid Thai visa, and proof of onward travel. Visitors from ASEAN, Western countries (including most Europeans), Commonwealth, and North American citizens, are not required to have a Thai visa for visits less than 30 days in Thailand.

Immigration policies are subject to change: For links that include detailed information about entering Thailand, please visit the following link: Conditions for Entry Into Thailand

Thailand Digital Arrival Card (TDAC)

- The Thailand Digital Arrival Card (TDAC) is an online form designed to replace the traditional paper-based arrival card and facilitate the entry process for travelers to Thailand, regardless of their mode of transportation via land, air, or sea.
- All non-Thai nationals entering the Kingdom of Thailand are required to complete the Thailand Digital Arrival Card online prior to entry.
- For more information please refer to the following sites
