Text of the note should not mention .3cr, since this designation will be gone. Alsok discussion on "considerations for the latest safety standards should be made for any new design or installation" sounds very loose and completely unnecessary - it is sufficient to point out no more maintaince is being made, and that all security consdierations are covered in Annex J. Period.

Comment Type T Comment Status A

"All stations meeting this standard shall conform to the general safety requirements as specified in Annex

J." these clauses in IEEE 802.3 specify ports, not stations or equipment. The electrical isolation requirements will apply to the MAU, or PMA/PMD/MDI. However, the stations or equipment may have multiple functions, ports, and power connections on it that have nothing to do with 802.3 or any LAN/MAN networking functions, and compliance with 62368 is dependent on those functions too. The requirement really is that the Clause xx MAU (or whatever clause PMA, PMD, etc.) shall not preclude the equipment complying with 62368; however, I can't figure out how to say that in a testable way. The best I know is to state the expectation for the equipment so the designer is aware, which now is in Annex J, and to remove the reference to the equipment in the individual clauses, so electrical isolation applies to the MAU, PMA/PMD/MDI, etc.

SuggestedRemedy

In clause 8.7.1 change "All stations" to "The MAU" And similarly in clause 14.7.1 change "All equipment" To "The MAU", and so on for the other PHY clauses.

In Annex J, J.2, page 94 line 28, change "All equipment meeting this standard shall conform to IEC 62368-1:2018." to "Equipment meeting this standard is expected to conform to IEC 62368-1:2018."
