IEEE 802.3 Interim Session January 9-13, 2017

Information Update:

Huntington Beach venue selected

The Waterfront Beach Hilton, Huntington Beach, California

- 11 miles from John Wayne (Orange County) Airport (SNA); $21.60 on Super Shuttle with group discount, $9.00 for each additional passenger in same party

- 19 miles from Long Beach Airport (LGB); $60 on Super Shuttle ExecuCar for 1-3 people with group discount (no shared van service); prices vary for other services

- 37 miles from Los Angeles International Airport (LAX); $32.40 on Super Shuttle with group discount,$9.00 for each additional passenger in same party

- $199 group rate, plus tax

- Occupies one block across Pacific Coast Highway (a boulevard) from Pacific ocean (stop light to cross)

- Part of downtown Huntington Beach (aka "Surf City"); walk to entertainment, restaurants, pier; Tuesday "Surf City Nights" on Main Street

- Discounted valet parking: $29/night or $13/day

CME Consulting
Experts in Advanced PHYsical Communications Technology

Southern California in January

Average highs: 63-65°F
(18°C)

Average lows: 43-49°F
(6-9°C)

Average rainfall: 2-2.6"
(5-7cm)

Meeting information:

- Day-to-day schedule and complete information available now on January 2017 Interim home page

- Access meeting information from www.ieee802.org/3/interims/index.html

- Please book hotel room asap to ensure availability!

- Deadline for early registration is Tuesday, December 13

- $410 early registration fee for Waterfront Hilton guests (to qualify, guests must stay at the meeting hotel for their entire time at the meeting)

- There are many restaurants within a few blocks of the meeting hotel (there is no need for a car)

- Contact the meeting planner (Lynn Kennedy) with any questions about registration, or if you need assistance with hotel reservations; use links on Interim site

CME Consulting
Experts in Advanced PHYsical Communications Technology